

COLLECTORS PRINT SPECIAL

November 2011

ORDER FORM

The final Collectors Print Special (VIII) for 2011 is an image from Maine. Cathedral Woods, Monhegan, Maine was shot in 2009. I spent a September weekend on Monhegan island, exploring and photographing while contemplating the area for a workshop location. This small, rocky island (less than a square mile in area) is accessible only by boat. For over 100 years generations of artists have sought out the quiet isolation and wild beauty of Monhegan to do their work. With approximately 12 miles of trails taking you through wooded areas, over rocky ledges, up high cliffs and down to the rocky shore it is easy to find creative stimulation. I made this image on a gray, misty morning with the Kodak 305 soft focus portrait lens on my 5 x 7 camera. The day and resulting image remind me of being in the woods in Scotland.
